

Module 6: Video 12 Transcript, Multisensory Learning

Why Do We Need Multisensory Rooms?

Shelving

A place for everything and everything in its place is we were always told, but if we have good storage and shelving in the multi-sensory room, it means that things are less likely to be lost and we can keep our sound systems, iPads, power switches and any other smaller sensory items away from prying eyes and fingers.